NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The market was very active and closed decidedly irregular during the morning session on the stock exchange and at one time the list took on quite uniform evidences of strength and even buoyancy. But at 12:30 o'clock the demand for securities seemed satisfied and the market fell into dullness and a somewhat reactionary tendency, which persisted to the close. London, in spite of dullness and heaviness of the general market need, and heaviness of the general market need, and heaviness of the general market was not in session. The British interpretation and understanding of the American elections, always more or less obscure and contassed, prompted them to this. The opening here did not fully respond, prices showing below the London parity. The international arbitrage brokers seized this opportunity to cover sates made at a higher level in London. With the cessation of the London buying about noon and with a renewed break in sugar, which had proved a heavy boat to carry all morning, prices began to drop off, the decline in the realfroads ranking all the way from a fraction to 11-2 per cent.

The stiffening of the caff money rate in the last hour to 21-2 per cent, and for small amounts to 3 per cent, and for small amounts to 3 per cent, had its effect in the late reaction. Today's active market made a good demand for money on call. In the railroad list the closting was generally steady and at net gains which reached a point in some rases.

The total sales of stocks today were 199,700 shares.

MR. STEPHON, OF SYRIA,

lets Tangled Up With American Legal Procedure.

Gets Tangled Up With American Legal Procedure.

Many menths ago there arrived in this country a Syrian who rejoiced in the name of Oilf Stephon. He came to the Land of the Free for the purpose of making a fortune. He located at Phochus, and started a fruit business which prospered so well that in the course of a comparatively short time he was able to go back to his native land and bring to this country his wife, whom he had beft behind until he could afford to fetch her. In the neight, shoot where his former home had beet there. It was to be to go the her than the head of the head of the her there here had beft being until the could afford to fetch her. In the neight, shoot where his former home had beet there. It was to be to the her than the head of the head of the her than the head of the head o came to something in the nature of a climax.

Mrs. Kate Smith is the proprietress of the Dewey House, one of the numerous figure reserts of Phoebus. The girls are now with her. The Syrian claims that she induced them to leave him before their time was up, they having paid him, according to his account, but $80. He had the woman arrested on a charge of trespass, and also had the two girls taken into custody on the charge of peddling without a license.

The case came up before Squire Furness yesterday, and His Honor discussed all three warrants, ordering that the costs be charged up to the complainant. The latter's attorney, Mr. Jalius T. Saunders, of Newport News, noted an appeal, which the Justice refused to entertain. The fruit man had to pay the costs or go to jail. He paid the costs. This, however, does not end the case, for his attorney will this morning go to Judge Baker P. Lee and ask him for a manuamus compelling the magistrate to grant the appeal, claiming that he has no other course under the law.

The two girls are typical nomadie ciaining that he has no other course under the law.

The two girls are typical nomadic daughters of the desert. Neither of them spoke English, save in a very broken semi-intelligible form, nor was the old man even telerably familiar with the tongue spoken in the land of their adoption. Naturally, under these comprehend the chief witnesses, one of those present describing the unknow jabber as more like the beating of a kettle drum than anything else.

As in the case of the woman the complainant produced no testimony to sustain his charge save his own unsupported assertions and these were very general, merely charging that the girls had been peddling goods all over the county. This the girls denied, Finally, they being willing, and Justice Furness having satisfied himself that they fully knew the nature and meaning of an oath, the defendants were put on the stand and swore they had done no pedding since they worked for the complainant. There being no other testimony against the accused and nothing tending to substantiate the charge, Justice Furness dismissed the case at complainant costs.

AS TO MUSTERING OUT.

Nothing Known of the Rumored Move ment to Relieve the Fourth.

ment to Relieve the Fourth.

A Daily Press representative yesterday questioned Captain G. W. Hope, of the Peninsula Guards, who is now home on furlough, as to the probability that the Fourth Virginia Regiment was to be mustered out of service. The captain had not heard the rumor and regarded it as hardly more. There were available for service in his company nearly seventy men, and the other eleven companies had an average of probably sixty men fit for duty. The report stating that the regiment, would be mustered out probably originated in Richmond, having first appeared in a nowapaper there. In this publication it was stated that the regiment could now muster for duty hardly more than 450 muster for duty hardly more than 450 men. This aggregate is considerably under the estimate of the regimental strength made by Captain Hope.

Whatever may be the ground for the rumor, it is certain that many parents in Hampton and vicinity whose sons are in the regiment would webcome a determination on the part of the gov, ernment to muster out the command. One father, who has two sons in the regiment, stated that he could space them both to the government to flight its battles in time of war, but was unwilling to have them utilized for regiment, and the profession of the properties of the duty in Porto Rico or Cuba and exposed to a dangerous and unhealthy climate. There are many others whose sentiments he expressed in that statement.

SOME ELECTION WAGERS.

Much Interest Taken Around Old Poir in the Ballot Battles.

Considerable interest was taken if the election by Hampton people, but mearly so much as at Old Point, when there were substantial evidences of his terest in the form of wagers on the result, adherents of the two parties backing their judgment with their currecy. A number of bets were made by guests at this popular resort on the poilt of the sult in New York State, on the political control of Congress, the candidatin this district and contests in oth States. The wagers ranged in amount from $5.00 to $150, so far as heard from and there were other minor hets confectioneries, flowers, whose, etc. Tween the sulf of which aggregated $150 as sid divided as follows: Fifty on Van Wye $50 on the country of the Fifty-six Yongross and $50 on Mr. Yongros and $50 on Mr

MORRISON IN PAUST.

Many Hampton devotees of the drama went over to the Soldiers' Home the aire last night to witness the presentation of 'Paust' by Mr. Lewis Morrison and his capable company. The players were greeted by a grantfying audience, both in point of numbers and appreciation. Mr. Morrison has achieved a material and an unique paparation in his great role of Mephistophical his like great role of Mephistophical his like great role of Mephistophical his great role of Mephistophical his great role of Mephistophical his like great role of Mephistophical his great role of Mephistophical his like great role of Mephistophical his like great role of the part. Aside from his conception of the stave, smiting, attractive and insimuating devil his picture company and the play goes very smoothly. The audience were well pleased with last night's rendition of the familiar story, which, it may be added, has a moral very forcefully presented.

office Moved to Norrolk.

In conformity with the recent determination of the State Board of Fisheries, Secretary S. F. Miller, of that body yesterday transferred the head-quarters of the board to Norfolk and removed the office effects. Mr. W. C. Skinner, clerk of the board, was urged to accompany the secretary to Norfolk and continue in that capacity, but, owing to other business interests demanding his presence here, had to decline. Mr. Miller commended his work and expressed his regret that the board was to lose Mr. Skinner's services.

BRIEF LOCAL NOTES.

NOTES PROM THE PORT.

A number of persons now attend dress parade at Fort Monree every fair afternoon, and to those who have never attended the pretty ceremonies and the rythmic movement of the battalion, theer is much interest. The six batterles now stationed at the post are composed largely of recruits; but in their service of from two to three men the men have developed sufficient proficiency to make quite a creditable showing. The parades are had every fair day beginning about 4:30 o'clock and continuing, perhaps, an house from from the Fourth and Fifth Artillery, Rieventh and Fifth Artillery, Rieventh and Nineteenth Infantry, who were brought back from Porto Rieo on sick leave and received at the post hospital, will leave today to rejoin their commands.

An effort is making to organize a football team at the post. Several of the batterles have elevens which will play among themselves and the best material will be drawn for the make-up of a team representing the post. It is rather late in the season, but the team may be made up and practiced in time to get a game or two.

Pay day is expected to materialize hefore the end of the week, probably today or tomerrow. NOTES FROM THE FORT
